Much of Alberta's forest area has been made available for public enjoyment through the establishment of provincial and federal parks. Within many of these recreation areas, the province has provided equipment to further the healthy enjoyment of outdoor life by Albertans and visitors alike. You are encouraged to use these facilities to the utmost while remembering that others will follow you, whose enjoyment will depend on the care and attention you have paid to leaving these areas in the same clean, attractive condition you found them.

Please remember, there is always danger of Forest Fires. Most often they result from carelessness or forgetfulness on the part of someone.

Put Out Your Campfire Completely.

Use Your Ashtray For Your Smoking Residue.

Don't Use Fire Carelessly.

Alberta . . .

ALBERTA IS AN ALL-YEAR PLAYGROUND. NATIONAL PARKS IN ALBERTA ARE KEPT OPEN ALL YEAR.

Population—1,296,463 (Department of Municipal Affairs, September, 1961).

Cities—Edmonton, 294,967; Calgary, 269,068; Lethbridge 33,706; Medicine Hat, 23,172; Red Deer, 18,762; Camrose, 6,380; Grande Prairie, 7,410; Wetaskiwin, 4,836; Lloydminster (Alberta and Saskatchewan) 5,456; Drumheller, 2,750.

Area—Total 255,285 sq. miles; land 248,000 sq. mi.; water 7,285 sq. mi. Alberta is much larger than California but has a population less than that of Los Angeles.

Forest cover about 158,000 sq. mi. of Alberta including: Eastern Slopes Conservation Area 8,900 sq. mi.; Jasper National Park, 4,200 sq. mi.; Banff National Park, 2,564 sq. mi.; Waterton Lake National Park, 204 sq. mi. Principal tree species include: spruce, pine, poplar, aspen, balsam fir, white birch and tamarack.

Altitudes—The surface of Alberta rises gradually from the Great Central Plain with an elevation of 2,170 ft. at Medicine Hat to the foothills and the ice-capped Canadian Rockies. It is drained by tributaries of three great river systems, namely, the Missouri-Mississippi in the south, the Bow and Saskatchewan systems in the centre which flow into Hudson's Bay, and the great Mackenzie system whose tributaries are the Athabasca and the Peace in the north and which reaches the Arctic Ocean. Altitudes of principal places are Calgary, 3,557'; Banff 4,534'; Lake Louise, 5,050'; Kicking Horse Pass, 5,332'; on Banff-Jasper Highway, Bow Summit, 6,785'; Sunwapta Pass, 6,675'; Jasper Townsite, 3,472'; Edmonton, 2,185'; Lethbridge, 2,983'; Fort Macleod, 3,107'; Red Deer, 2,819'.

There are no venomous snakes or poisonous insects in Alberta's resort areas and especially in the Canadian Rockies and foothills where the Hay Fever rating is zero.

ALBERTA IS AN ALL-YEAR PLAYGROUND NATIONAL PARKS IN ALBERTA ARE KEPT OPEN ALL YEAR.

Climate—Spring comes to Alberta, ice breaks up on the rivers and early spring flowers like the crocus (anemone) appear usually during the first two weeks of April and all the leaves are out usually by the middle of May. Spring and autumn days, the latter extending from about October 1st until mid-December are usually warm and sunny, but there may be frosts at night. Summer temperatures range from the fifties to the mid-eighties, but with the exception of the Medicine Hat region, they seldom rise above 90°. In the mountains the summer days are warm and the evenings are crisp. You always sleep under blankets in the Canadian Rockies. Winter weather varies considerably in Alberta because much of the province lies in the path of the chinook winds—dry, warm air currents which, coming from the Pacific Ocean, lose their precipitation on the western slopes of the mountains and descend to the plains regaining their warmth through compression. Temperatures can rise from below zero to forty above within a few hours. Winters in Alberta are not bitterly severe because, although the temperatures may be below zero, the air is so dry that warm clothing always keeps out the chill.

Bring the kind of clothing you would normally wear for the season in the place where you live. Throw in that old sweater; it may come in handy even on summer evenings in the mountains.

Attractions—on your way to or from the Canadian Rockies you will find many interesting places and attractions in out-of-the-way spots. Plan to visit the badlands north of Brooks or in the Drumheller area. Visit the museum at Ft. Macleod, the Experimental Farm at Lethbridge, the Mormon Temple at Cardston, the great landslide at Frank, the Calgary Zoo and Stampede and district rodeos, the oil fields at Turner Valley, Leduc, Redwater, Red Deer and Drayton Valley, the provincial auditoria in Calgary and Edmonton, the great industrial section east of Edmonton, the pulp mill at Hinton, the Basilian Museum at Mundare, the old fort site at Rocky Mountain House and scores of historic sites which are specially marked throughout the province. Visit the university, Legislative Buildings and Storyland Zoo in Edmonton, and inspect our schools and museums everywhere. You will find a church of your choice in every city and nearly every town in the province.

U.S. Customs officials may determine the value of purchases on wholesale prices rather than retail. Members of a family household travelling together may combine their personal exemptions. For Your Comfort

Motels, auto courts and tourist bungalows in Alberta outside the national parks, are inspected, licensed, and classified by government authorities, according to the quality of accommodation and facilities provided.

A 4★ rental unit provides good construction with attractive surroundings, self-contained modern plumbing facilities. Adequate furnishings of good quality, so as to provide comfort and convenience. Where there are kitchens they shall provide full facilities for light housekeeping. Interior decoration and housekeeping shall be of high quality.

3★ rental units must provide all the modern facilities of the 4★ unit but they need not be furnished so sumptuously.

2★ rental units must have electric light but they may not have self-contained bathroom facilities. Such facilities must be provided, however, in a central building.

1★ units need not have modern plumbing facilities or electric light.

0★ units are those which fall below the 1★ unit in standards of facilities and furnishings.

2★, 1★ and 0★ rental suites are usually located in remote places where modern water and light facilities are not available.

Classifications and grades in this book are dated to March 31, 1963, and are subject to change.

ACCOMMODATION—GENERAL INFORMATION

Facilities for the accommodation of Park visitors vary widely from campgrounds and trailer courts in specially selected areas, to luxury resorts, hotels, and other establishments with every up-to-date convenience.

Camping

Campgrounds are of three main types:

Serviced, for which a nominal fee is charged—usually provide kitchen shelters, stoves or fireplaces, hot water, electricity and toilets. In some laundry facilities, coin-operated washers and showers are also found.

Semi-serviced, for free use—are less well equipped but have kitchen shelters, stoves or fireplaces, drinking water and toilet facilities.

Primitive, also free—where there is no direct access by highway, provide only the minimum conveniences.

The use of campgrounds and trailer courts is on a first-come, first-served basis and reservations are not accepted.

Visitors wishing to camp elsewhere in approved areas of the Park may do so upon obtaining the necessary camping and fire permits from the Warden Service.

Picnic Areas

Many picnic areas are provided at selected locations usually convenient to Park roads. Tables, fireplaces and drinking water are available at most of these.

Commercial Accommodation

All visitor accommodation in the National Parks is inspected and maximum daily rates are approved by the National Parks Service. Rates quoted here are the latest available at the time of printing, and may be subject to minor revisions. To avoid disappointment, it is advisable to write to the establishments concerned or to the Park Superintendent in advance for the names of agencies handling reservations.
